

“Art Willis is a dynamic speaker with a wealth of professional and leadership experience. His presentation style is perfectly suited to young audiences as he makes real-world situations relevant to young people whose decisions and behavior will have a direct bearing on their own futures.

“Mr. Willis presents an articulate and exciting vision for success by challenging students to become leaders. By challenging future leaders to recognize their strengths and develop their full potential, Art Willis leaves a powerful impression that lasts a lifetime.”

---- Bob Schaffer, former U.S. Representative from Colorado's 4th Congressional District and current member Colorado State Board of Education
